

Did you colour in your peaks correctly? If you agreed with Annabelle and Harry that there is DNA from two people in this sample you were correct! The evidence you have coloured in also strongly suggests that the identity of those two people is Mr Baker and his son.

All the peaks are accounted for which means no one else's DNA is present in the sample. Both men touched the cage and the door handle.

